

Do not band the DO NOT CALL. Before this came into effect I recv tons of calls everyday. It felt like I was been harrassed, like it was bill collectors. I tell them I am not interested please don't call me again. They will keep on calling. and when I said I am not interested they just kept insisting harrasing me pushing whatever product or serv they were offering. I would get so upset I would have to tell them off.

A lot of times I wouldn't answer phone so that I didn't have to deal with that or turn it off. I was so close of just having my phone disconnected. That is not fair. If I want a certain product or service then I will make the contact not the other way around. Thank you
